Ashurst, as administrator of the estate of said deceased, made to the said court and filed in the office of the clerk thereof, on said day, a return of sale made by him on the 13th day of November, 1901, of an undivided one-third interest in the following described real estate, to-wit:

Refused a Quarter Million.

The owners of the Last Chance mine in the Grand Canyon this week had the pleasure of refusing an offer of a quarter of a million of dollars for that mining property. The name of the party is withheld from publication by request. A number of mining men of reputation have visited this property recently and all pronounce it a sure winner. It really looks as though Williams is going to enjoy its long delayed period of mining prosperity very shortly.

Turkey shoot by J. C. Phelan Sunday, December 22. Get out and get a turkey for your Xmas dinner.

Mesdames W. and P. A. Melick, mother and wife of the doctor, left yesterday for a week's visit in Los Angeles.

Forest Ranger Wilson died on Thursday evening at the Grand View hotel. His remains will be brought in this morning for interment.

Dr. A. G. Rounseville left Wednesday for Chicago. He will be gone some time, but Doc. has been there before and can take care of himself.

Mrs. H. J. Gray arrived in the city Wednesday from Chicago. She had expected to remain away all winter, but discovered that there is no place like Arizona.

We regret to announce the death, yesterday, of Forrest, the five-year old son of Nellie Armijo. The little fellow had been ailing for some time with rheumatic troubles.

Good telephones, metallic circuits and prompt service help you out wonderfully in your "biz" or residence. You are always in reach. Our long distance to Flagstaff cuts your telegraph bill 75 per cent; our rates are right.

Messrs. A. Nellis, F. R. Nellis, H. F. Adams, Bert Adams and D. L. Cunningham formed a hunting party which left for the hills early this week. F. R. Nellis, Bert Adams and Don Cunningham have each killed a deer while Mr. A. Nellis succeeded in locating a bee tree from which about twenty pounds of honey was taken.

Thanksgiving day was observed in Williams in the usual good way. The business portion of the city was closed early in the day and all repaired to their homes to partake of the good things made ready for the Thanksgiving dinner. After the feast many hied themselves to the race track where an old-fashioned turkey shoot was held. All enjoyed the afternoon's sport. In the evening services were held in Methodist Episcopal church where an able and fitting sermon was delivered by the pastor, Rev. W. C. Geyer. The service was well attended.

Among Our Hunters.

The hunters have had considerable sport this season joshing each other and more than a few good stories have been spoiled by the bullet missing its mark. Those who have killed something, so far as we have been able to learn, are as follows:

If any have been overlooked, report at this office and your name will be added to the list. We will continue to print the list through the season to see who gets the biggest string.

The turkey shoot last Sunday and the one Thursday, conducted by Messrs. Phelan and Martin, were both well patronized. The list of lucky shooters is too long to publish and the unlucky ones would make a much longer list.

Graders have been at work this week reducing and raising the grade of the streets in different places around town. When the work is finished Williams will be no more the town of mudholes. The streets are being rounded in the center, with eighteen inch gutters at the sides, thus giving excellent drainage.
